

PRO and CON

BY JAMES G. DUNTON.

It is rumored that President Hoover plans to retire gracefully next March and resume his course of life as a private citizen. There have as yet been no reports that he will emulate the distinguished gentleman who gave him his political start and who planned to resign in 1916 so that the mandate of the people might immediately go into effect with his opponent, Mr. Hughes, occupying the hot spot known as the presidential chair. Mr. Hoover's vision must be failing - there is handwriting all over every wall in the political world - but then, Mr. Hoover has not as much faith in the people's judgment as Woodrow Wilson, nor as much respect for their wishes. If he had a little less confidence in himself and a little more in the people who elected him to act as their agent, perhaps he wouldn't find it so difficult to get himself hired for another term. As it is, the report of his stewardship, which he has been repeating along with a barrage of punctuation marks hurled at his smiling opponent, is rather more than drowned out by the chorus of eleven million unemployed or lost in the deluge of news about bank failures, receiverships, bankruptcies, abandoned farms, record low prices for crops, closed factories, retaliatory tariffs, prohibition racketeering, and all the other hundred and one thousand misfortunes and evils to which the Republican faith is heir today. His case is sad, indeed! And to top it all his private fortune has shrunk to a mere three-quarters of a million. But he can have one consolation, at least if he returns to England, he may be duly appreciated for the truth in that biblical crack about a prophet or a hero not being without honor except in his own country!

"Improved Speaker"

The President is a much improved public speaker. (Perhaps if he remained in office long enough, he would be a much improved president - say in about two generations.) And he makes a much better political speech than he did in 1928 - that is, who ever puts in all the un-Hooverish wisecracks and labored oratorical embellishments has succeeded in giving his audience some semblance of being "listening speakers" but the latter sometimes wonders whether he is "fighting" his listeners or his opponents in the political ring. His intimates sedulously spread the gospel that he is a strong silent man, to whom speechmaking is very distasteful - and from listening to him one is forced to conclude that he does find it distasteful to "go to the people" because his philosophy of government, and of his administration, presupposes that he and it should be the repository of public confidence simply because "You must have faith in us - we are always right." His attitude is that he is the leader; if his following refuses to follow (or to stay behind him when he stands still) - well, that's the public's hard luck and simply proves again that the people are not fit to rule. G. O. P. orators would never admit it in so many words, but unprejudiced students of government long ago observed that the only time the people really exercise a voice in this government is at our elections. The Congressional office, Republican control has been, ever since U. S. Grant, and more or less than that, and it has been the same clique most of the time.

From Monday night's Presidential oration:

"In the recent crisis those who supported my policies deserve all the credit of patriotism . . . etc." In other words: If you don't agree with me you must be wrong! If you disagree, you deserve to be damned as a traitor! And that beautiful exposition.

Director of Ohio Commerce to Be Chief Speaker on Program

GLEE CLUB TO SING

Expect Huge Crowd at Memorial Hall

With Theodore Tangeman, state director of commerce, scheduled to make the leading talk, Democrats of the city and county are planning a gigantic rally Thursday evening at Memorial hall under the auspices of the county Democratic organization.

The meeting is scheduled to start at 7:30 p. m. with C. A. Leist, chairman of the executive committee, in charge of the program.

Tangeman, rated as the best speaker in Governor George White's cabinet, has been in Washington D. C. all the week on official business, but is returning in time to make his address which is expected to be the highlight of the Democratic campaign in the county.

OTHERS TO SPEAK

Tangeman's talk will not be the only feature of the rally, however, since Congressman Mel G. Underwood of New Lexington, and Stanley Schwartz and August Weber, candidates for the State Senate are also scheduled. The crowd will be given an opportunity to hear Mrs. Hulse Hays, N. Court-st., discuss the Hoover administration from the housewife's point of view. Mrs. Hays has spoken several places on this subject and has always created much enthusiasm and received favorable comment.

The Democratic Glee club, having sung at Logan and at Chillicothe in the district, is ready to appear on this program. There are expected to be 30 persons in the club for the meeting. Carl Leist is the club's director.

Whether or not any of the state candidates will appear is not known.

About 30 Democratic women, precinct workers, attended a luncheon in party headquarters at the American Hotel Tuesday when several questions were discussed. Sen. Robert Bulkley of Cleveland spoke briefly to the gathering. All county candidates were guests at the luncheon.

MANY CAPONE AIDES JAILED

One Gang Uses Sign "Republican Headquarters," 'Important' Men Held.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Two raids one of them on a meeting of the "Board of Directors of the Underworld," today filled jail cells with nineteen notorious gangsters, many of them former henchmen of Al Capone.

The "directors' meeting" was being held in a luxuriously appointed office in La Salle street, the canyon of finance, when detectives broke in. Ten reputed "big shots" were seized.

The men arrested in the La Salle street office, occupied the headquarters of a gigantic racketeering enterprise operated by former leaders of Al Capone's syndicate.

USED G. O. P. SIGN

Seven other prisoners were taken in a raid on a rear room a few blocks from the downtown section. The room, whose door bore the placard: "Republican headquarters," was camouflaged as a political workers' office.

Among the ten seized in the La Salle street office.

PRIZES AWARDED

Annual Event Expected to Be Developed

Circleville's first big community Hallowe'en carnival was staged Tuesday evening and it is a certainty the event will be held every year from now on. No Pumpkin Show parade ever caused so much interest as this event and, to term it successful is putting it lightly.

Mayor B. T. Hedges, who got behind the affair and named a committee to see that it went over, Wednesday, estimated the number of persons in the parade at more than 400.

The streets were lined on both sides for several blocks in the business district and with the high school band, dressed comically, and making plenty of noise, the proper atmosphere for a Hallowe'en carnival was prevalent. The evening was a perfect one for such a Mardi Gras and even though the parade was postponed from Monday night, the actual Hallowe'en, the order the celebrators was not dampened in the least.

PRIZES AWARDED

Prizes were awarded to the following persons, by the judges, Arthur C. Hunt, John G. Boggs, and Mrs. Elizabeth Willis of Clarksburg:

Says "Men Who Defamed
Harding and Killed Willis
Are After Me."

COLUMBUS, Nov. 2.—David S. Ingalls today launched a charge that "the old Ohio Gang," a handful of men "posing as Republicans," have launched a campaign of slanders to defeat him in his candidacy for the governorship of Ohio.

"It's the old 'Ohio Gang' that defamed Harding and killed Frank Willis," said the Republican, nominee in his sensational accusation.

"They have shown their hands within the past five days but still have their heads covered as usual," Ingalls charged. "For more than two decades they have made their living, and in each instance an excellent living, through their jungle methods of politics."

"The new deal that I ask in Republican politics in Ohio is to sweep off these barnacles from the state house steps, to keep these night hawks out of the offices of the seat of government, and to put up a barrier that will forever bar these half-dozen men from consideration by the Republican party or any other reputable political party."

"Make it impossible for such political vultures to exist. Organize the Republican party so firmly against their greedy graft that they will henceforth have to hide their hands as well as their heads."

Ingalls mentioned no names in his accusation.

SEN. GLASS ON AIR

President Planning Tour
Through West

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The presidential campaign rocked along in its final stages today at a pace which is fairly dizzy. None since the turn of the century has been more filled with rancor and passion, even bitterness, as Republican and Democratic orators flail away at each other.

President Hoover on Monday night startled the country with his passionate declaration that "national disaster" will follow Democratic victory next Tuesday, and that grass will grow in the streets of American cities should there be any tinkering with the Republican tariff.

No president and no presidential candidate within recent memory has made a more sensational statement.

Last night, the over-burdened air waves literally hummed with vehement denials from the Democrats.

GLASS VERBEMENT

Senator Carter Glass, the fiery Virginian, rose from a sick-bed in Washington to denounce Mr. Hoover's "mischievous talk" and to charge him with "being ignorant of the facts or indifferent to the truth." This is fairly strong medicine even in the war-time of a campaign.

And from New York, Newburgh, Baker caught up and hurled his "Hoover's tariff argument" and said "the real menace" which fronts the country at this time is Mr. Hoover's conversion to the Smoot-Hawley tariff act.

Elsewhere throughout the country, the smaller oratorical squad in the two parties blazed away at each other in ever rising crescendo.

The national debate which Al Smith sought so unsuccessfully to obtain in 1928 is on in earnest its final week. President Hoover ignored Gov. Smith four years ago never mentioning his name. In the past fortnight, he has denounced Gov. Roosevelt and the insured terms, and has been replied to in kind.

SWITCH AREAS

By common consent, the Republicans are to wind up their campaign in the west; the Democrats in the east.

Feeling that the west is safe, Gov. Roosevelt will come into New York tomorrow for a final whirl of speaking, with major addresses every night in an around the metropolitan area.

At the same time, President Hoover will be leaving the east for the rest of the year. His final appeals to stand firm to the west's traditional Republican feelings. So perturbed are the Republicans over losing the west that Hoover will strike straight through to California unless there is a last minute change in plans.

Four years ago, Mr. Hoover travelled sedately to California to cast his vote, making a few perfunctory speeches enroute. It is not primarily to vote that he travels to the Pacific coast this year—it is to make one final appeal to the disgruntled electorate through the medium of more than a score of speeches, stretching from Ohio and Indiana clear to the shores of California.

No incumbent president has ever

Tigers Confident Though Crippled

Rooney and Cook Join Injured List; Skaggs or Hill To Start At Tackle Position Against Strong Delaware Team Friday.

Coach Pete Herberholz plans to "shoot the works" Friday afternoon when the Delaware High grid machine invades the local lot in a central Buckeye League fray.

Friday's game will decide whether the local squad will go below the 500 percent mark or whether or not they will climb above the mark.

Although the Tiger eleven will try their best to take Delaware into camp Friday they will enter the game as the underdog, since three of the first string men are on the shelf and will not possibly see action Friday.

ROONEY HURT, TOO

"Putt" Rooney, line man, was injured in the Grandview fray receiving a shoulder injury that may keep him out, while Lee Cook, half back, suffered a painful injury to his left leg in last Friday's contest, having the skin torn loose from the back of his knee and thigh. And Bud Miller, another stalwart of the Tiger line, playing a tackle position is still out with a shoulder injury.

These men have not been practicing this week and will not be able to enter the contest Friday according to Coach Herberholz.

The Tiger mentor has been grooming Kenny Hill and Russell Skaggs for the position left open by Miller and possibly Truax and Gordon will enter into the fight for the vacant position.

Johnny Mader who has been showing promise as a flanker will in all probability see action Friday on the right end of the line in a place formerly held by Hill.

COACH CONFIDENT

Herberholz in commenting on the coming contest said, "This game will be a tough one and I have been trying to drill that into the boys this week. Delaware has a fast back in Heinlein and he will be a constant threat. If the team shows the power it is capable of we will win."

WISE MONEY

DEMOCRATS FAVORED

As Mr. Hoover goes west, and Gov. Roosevelt confidently campaigns New York, the surface indications all point to Democratic victory. The straw votes, and newspaper polls, while in some instances showing a draft toward the Republicans, all forecast the election of Gov. Roosevelt.

The betting odds, the so-called "wise money," all favor Democratic prospects. In the final center it was possible today to get 2 to 1 and 3 to 1 on Gov. Roosevelt's election, with considerably more Democratic than Republican money in sight.

Around Democratic national headquarters here, there is a very discernible atmosphere of victory. Chairman James A. Farley beams upon all comers and refuses to concede "a single state" to Mr. Hoover.

About Republican headquarters the aid is more subdued, they talk of "ground swells" and "drifts" and asserts that while things looked bad some weeks ago, there have been steady accretions to the Republican cause since Mr. Hoover donned his fighting clothes. But it is also discernible they are hopeful rather than confident.

Stars to Clash in Pacific Coast Battle

HANK SCHALDACH CAL CLEMONS IRVINE COTTON WARBURTON
Saturday marks the annual meeting at Los Angeles of those traditional rivals of the Pacific Coast Conference—California and Southern California. Howard Jones' untested U. S. C. Trojans are again favored to down their opponents from Berkeley, despite the sensational playing of Hank Schaldach, the Golden Bears' great halfback, and Captain Dick Tozer, tackle. The champion Trojans have players of outstanding ability in Capt. "Tay" Brown at tackle, Cal Clemmons at halfback and Irvine (Cotton) Warburton at quarter. The latter is considered the "find" of the Coast football season.

SEVERAL SPORTS FACE SHORT FUNDS AT O. S. U. NEXT SEASON

COLUMBUS, Nov. 2. Decreased football receipts at Ohio State university this fall probably will compel the elimination of swimming, wrestling, golf and tennis from next year's intercollegiate schedule, and may force further cut in salaries, Athletic Director L. W. St. John revealed today.

St. John along the line the athletic activity at Ohio State will have to be sharply curtailed because of the wide open spaces that have been found in Ohio Stadium at every home game this year.

Although denying that football is losing its hold on the public, St. John admitted that the decline in football receipts this year, compared with 1931, will be 35 per cent.

The slump really started, however, last year, when there was a falling off of 25 per cent.

Under the present arrangement at Ohio State, football pays for itself and for nearly all the other sports engaged in by students. A dwindling of football receipts thus means a curtailment everywhere.

"We are trying to carry on intercollegiate competition as economically as possible and we must stay within our athletic budget," said the athletic director. "All sports will suffer but swimming, wrestling, golf and tennis probably will have to be eliminated entirely from the intercollegiate schedule."

From St. John and Coach Sam Williamson down to the lowest-paid employee, the athletic department took a 12 per cent cut in salary this year.

Another severe reduction in the near future now seems inevitable. The suggestion that reductions in the price of football tickets

Wets And Drys Spending Equal Campaign Moneys

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The leading wet and dry organizations of the country are spending about equal amounts in the national campaign, according to expense statements on file with the clerk of the House today.

Thus far expenditures totalling $630,120 have been reported under the provisions of the corrupt practices act, with the wets spending $342,520 and the drys $287,600.

The statements, which include the Association against the prohibition amendment, political committee of the Anti-saloon league, Prohibition party and Allied forces, do not account for all expenditures in behalf of the wet and dry cause.

SOME DO NOT REPORT
Some organizations promoting repeal or modification of the Eighteenth amendment do not make reports on the ground that they are not engaged in political activities.

The Anti-saloon league divorces its regular prohibition work from its political activities, and reports only expenditures for the later diversion. The same is true of the Women's Christian Temperance association.

Both wets and drys have raised more money than was expected. Their total expenditures as given to date are about one-fourth the combined outlay of the Republican and Democratic national committees.

Most of the Anti-Prohibition money is spent through the various divisions of the Association against the Prohibition amendment. Including the Missouri and

Politics Gone to the Dogs

Here we have the unique spectacle of two Governors, one of them the Democratic candidate for President, indulging in the well-known sport of hot-dogging. At left is Governor Joseph Ely of Massachusetts, and at right, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York. Photo was made when the party paused for roadside refreshment enroute to Groton, Mass., during Roosevelt's campaign drive in New England.

Pennsylvania diversions, it has raised $342,520 since Jan. 1.

POLING AT HEAD
The Allied Forces for Prohibition has taken the place of the political committee of the Anti-Saloon league as the Anti-salooner for the drys. This body, headed by Dr. Daniel A. Poling of New York, raised $216,769 from Jan. 1 to Oct. 24.

The report shows that Dr. Poling personally supplied the airplane "Raymond Robins," in which he is making a campaign for President Hoover. He paid $5,500 for the plane, including reconditioning.

The national prohibition board of strategy raised $43,200. The political committee of the Anti-Saloon league reported receipts of $12,502, and the political committee of the W. C. T. U. $1,712.

Among the workers for the Anti-Saloon league committee is Sergeant Alvin C. York the Tennessee hero of the World War. He was paid $500.

The Prohibition national party, which the organized drys refused to support, raised only $7,917 to conduct the campaign of William D. Upshaw for President.

Comparatively small amounts are being spent by the political committees of the state Anti-Saloon leagues, according to their reports.

NO FUNDS HERE
The New Jersey Anti-Saloon league for the first time during a national campaign reported no expenditures on senatorial or congressional races. All of the candidates of the major parties in New Jersey are wet.

tion of "a higher" scale of living under Republican policies" is the same old G. O. P. bunk of the "Full Dinner Pail" and "Chicken in Every Pot" . . . It can as easily be proved that we have raised our standards of living "in spite of" rather than "because of" Republican policies. . . . Look up the origins of all the progressive legislation on the books - ninety percent of it originated in Democratic or Progressive policies and reforms! And all the sepulchral tones of the G. O. P. salesmen cannot prove the contrary! . . . It is the same seventy-year-old political HORSEFEATHERS!

THE President is still trying to make great political capital of the remark concerning the Supreme Court which Governor Roosevelt inadvertently contributed (for the sake of emphasis) in his speech at Baltimore. The President shows that he is hard up for argument when he persists in trying to read into that harmless "aside" some insidious indication of a "recklessness and irresponsibility" or "lack of consideration for the unbiased and unpartisan Supreme Judicial Tribunal" . . . Monday night the President argued again that "never since the Civil War has there been any question of partisan politics in connection with the Supreme Court" . . . Which implies, we suppose, that the decision of that Republican Justice against Samuel Tilden, the popularly elected Democratic candidate, in 1876, which almost brought on a second civil war, was determined by no political considerations. And as for F. D. Roosevelt's light comment showing lack of respect for the Highest Court: has the President, good Republican that he is, ever heard of the torrent of scathing condemnation which the Great T. R. hurled at the Supreme Court because some of its decisions did not agree with his own ideas? . . . Governor Roosevelt's recent remark was made merely to emphasize the fact that the G. O. P. had such complete control over the government in 1928 that there can be no excuse now for the good things they failed to accomplish. In other words, since the President is making so much hullabaloo about "Democratic obstruction" - what excuse has he for inaction before there was any "Democratic majority of two in the House of Representatives" . . . The Republican Party has had twelve years of power, ten of them when they were in complete control of the government. And 1929-32 is the fruit of their policies! . . . The President threw another boomerang when he tries to blame his failure on the Democratic House of Representatives. . . . He dares the one year of majority of two Democrats because they did not bring in a program which he would accept; it is the fact that the Republican majority in MANY in both branches of Congress for ten long years should be in for a little damning also!

Another pet point of the President's is in regard to Governor Roosevelt's statement that he would aim to guarantee work for all the people all the time. The President attacks this statement as a "flimsy promise impossible of fulfillment." And he persists in twisting this into an indictment of his opponent as shallow, irresponsible or ignorant . . . Well, when you come right down to the Governor's statement, it seems neither so absurd, nor so impossible of achievement. Certainly it is a laudable aim to have, and with eleven million unemployed workers in mind, it sounds like rather a noble and important end to seek by some means or other . . . It isn't any more impossible than Mr. Hoover's "banishment of the poorhouse" or his "chicken in every pot" or his "two cars in every garage." But it doubtless does seem impossible according to Republican theories of government. . . . It is inevitable that a broad program of Unemployment Insurance will eventually achieve this "impossible" aim, and Republicans and Democrats alike will favor it by force of public opinion.

The President spent an hour and a half Monday night pleading the same old plea for the same old system that has failed time and again, and cries calamity at any forward-looking effort or ambition to improve the social arrangement in which we carry on the business of living from day to day and year to year. . . . If Monday night's speech did not sound like the Reactionaries of old, then Al Smith is a Prohibitionist!

Anyway there must be just about enough diehard Republicans on the city of New York to fill Madison Square Garden - and it sounded as if Mr. Macy had corralled all of them there Monday night!

AND they cheered the same old story - All the blessings we ever had were Republican blessings, all the misfortunes were Democratic. The Sun in the sky is Republican - except in times of drought! The Rain is Republican - except in times of flood! The Winds are Republican - except in times of hurricane or tornado! The Corn and Wheat are Republican when they bring high prices. Democratic when the bottom falls out of the market. . . . And et cetera, et cetera, ad infinitum, to the same old tune. . . . Would they have us believe now that Heaven itself has been overwhelmed by Democratic since 1929?

There can be no question of Mr. Hoover's ability or his integrity.

TEST SANITY OF SLAYER

Dr. Orlando F. Scott, surgeon-psychiatrist and criminologist, is shown here with Mrs. Inez Steed Carrell, Chicago woman who killed her three children at Mattoon, Ill. Dr. Scott declares Mrs. Carrell is legally sane but medically insane.

He was and doubtless is an able and astute mining engineer - but as a President he is a flop. And there is nothing particularly strange in that fact, since the same kind of political mistakes have happened in this country several times before: General Grant was a great soldier but what a President! Warren Harding was a pleasant, likeable politician - but only death saved him from one sweet lot of embarrassment! Judge Taft was liked by everyone - but he was about as ineffectual in the White House as the incumbent.

It is not the man Hoover who has failed to lead - it is the system of which he is just a part, and a whole-souled believing part. It is the G. O. P. machinery that has come to a standstill. It is the same old machine - a good car on the hills (going down) - a fine car on a smooth road - but it stalls every time it gets into a stretch of construction or bad weather!

"Hold on to Hoover" is a fine slogan or would be, if he were going in the right direction.

"Don't Change Horses in Mid Stream," is another - and they preach it regardless of the fact that the horse we're on has flat feet, broken legs, weak back, mange, heaves, and has shown every indication of going blind!

You guessed it, reader: We're mostly on the G. O. P. Administration.

Mary Louise Gerhardt, Edna Hunt, Beatrice Kibbee, Ruth Miller, Mary Rathburn, Esther Smith, and Jane Stevenson, fourth grade, were neither absent nor tardy during the month of October.

The Sophomore English Class has just concluded the study of a very interesting classic, "The Lady of the Lake."

The Juniors have enjoyed reading "MacBeth" during the past three weeks. They showed a lively interest in the dramatization of several scenes, and in finding evidence to support their conflicting views on topics of discussion.

Elita Swank of the eighth grade is under quarantine for Scarlet Fever. Otherwise the attendance for the second school month was very commendable, twenty-five of the twenty-eight pupils being neither absent, nor tardy.

Ethel Cain, Sophomore, has moved to Columbus and will enter South High School.

The Asheville teachers attended the Central Ohio Teachers association meeting in Columbus last Friday and Saturday all day. It was the best program offered in this part of the state in years, also, the best attended.

given the prize, a boudoir lamp presented by the Crist Dept. Store, in the girl's division.

Helen King, dressed as Satan, the pocket knife presented by Barrere-Nickerson Co. for the best boy's costume.

Dell DeLong, the prize of a box of boy's handkerchiefs from the Joseph Clothing Co. for the most comic boy's outfit.

TASK DIFFICULT

The task of the judges was an extremely difficult one since there were so many excellent characterizations. All concerned with the parade conceded that the prize winners' costumes were excellent and deserving of the prizes they won.

The course of the parade was altered to include High-St. at the last moment. N. G. Spangler, whom it is reported started the "ball rolling" for the carnival, was removed to his home from Berger hospital Tuesday afternoon and is recovering from injuries suffered in an automobile accident. It was for Mr. Spangler's benefit that the parade included High-St.

An old-fashioned dance was staged in front of the courthouse after the prizes had been awarded with the Asheville Old Time Fiddlers providing the music. Carl Porter did the calling and there were a good many who took advantage of the opportunity to dance.

Mayor Hedges' carnival committee includes R. L. Brehrer and Lee T. Shaner of the Chamber of Commerce; James Stout and Charles Radcliff from the American Legion; Karl J. Herrmann of the Rotary club and Glen R. Gelb of the Kiwanis club.

9 FARMER GROUPS JOIN FARM NIGHT

Organized Agriculture in State Will Participate in Week Broadcasts.

Organized agriculture will state its case when representatives from nine Ohio farm organizations participate in a special series of discussions to be launched from the state-owned radio station WEAO at 8-20 p. m., Nov. 14, by L. G. Foster, rural economist at the Ohio State University.

The discussions by farm groups, which will be a regular feature on the Farm Night program, every Monday night, will throw into the limelight some of the policies, programs, and achievements of the state's outstanding rural groups.

Among the organizations presenting discussions during November are: Ohio Livestock Cooperative, Wooster Cooperative Poultry Association, Producers' Cooperative Commission Association, and the Cooperative Milk Producers' Association.

Other features on the November Farm Night program include discussions by representatives from the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station and the Ohio State Museum Experiment Station talks include "Lessons from Cattle Feeding Tests," and "Changes in Horticultural Practices Result from Recent Research Work." The curator of the Ohio State Museum, Harlow Lindley, will discuss the place of rural museums in country life in a series of four talks.

In addition to special features, the farm night program for November contains the usual number of discussions on livestock production, farm crops, poultry raising, homemaking, 4-H clubs, home beautification and farmers' institutes.
